

Stanford University

New Student Orientation 2022

Student Program

Stanford Fundamental Standard

The Fundamental Standard has set the standard of conduct for students at Stanford since it was articulated in 1896. It states:

Students at Stanford are expected to show both within and without the University such respect for order, morality, personal honor and the rights of others as is demanded of good citizens. Failure to do this will be sufficient cause for removal from the University.

The Fundamental Standard is more than just words articulated long ago. They are values seeped in Stanford's history and reflected every day throughout our community. As a part of this community you are now entrusted with upholding these important values.

Stanford Honor Code

The Honor Code was written by students in 1921. It states:

- 1. The Honor Code is an undertaking of the students, individually and collectively:*
 - that they will not give or receive aid in examinations; that they will not give or receive unpermitted aid in class work, in the preparation of reports, or in any other work that is to be used by the instructor as the basis of grading;*
 - that they will do their share and take an active part in seeing to it that others as well as themselves uphold the spirit and letter of the Honor Code.*
- 2. The faculty on its part manifests its confidence in the honor of its students by refraining from proctoring examinations and from taking unusual and unreasonable precautions to prevent the forms of dishonesty mentioned above. The faculty will also avoid, as far as practicable, academic procedures that create temptations to violate the Honor Code.*
- 3. While the faculty alone has the right and obligation to set academic requirements, the students and faculty will work together to establish optimal conditions for honorable academic work.*

You will notice that the Honor Code gives students a lot of trust. Part of Stanford's Mission is to "prepare students to think broadly, deeply and critically, and to contribute to the world." Through values like the Honor Code, we want you to start building these critical skills while you are here at Stanford.

WELCOME TO STANFORD

Welcome to Stanford! We have planned a full schedule of events and programs to introduce you to the rich academic, social, and cultural life of Stanford. Over the next few days, we hope that you will get to know your dormmates, members of your class, and the staff and faculty who will support you this year; prepare for the first day of classes; gain exposure to the University's diverse educational opportunities and resources; participate in cherished traditions; and settle into your new home as a member of our Stanford community.

PLANNING YOUR DAYS

Required Events: You should attend all required events highlighted in red, put meetings with advisors on your schedule, and choose among the optional events throughout the week. While the week may feel busy, remember to eat, sleep, and give yourself the time you need to transition to your new home.

If you have family members accompanying you, plan to say your goodbyes by 5:00 p.m. on Wednesday, September 21. Please do not make plans with them for the remainder of the week, as you will be occupied with NSO events.

Event Details: Any updates to events will be posted in the Approaching Stanford Canavs course at canvas.stanford.edu.

NSO Nametag: Please wear your NSO nametag for entry to all events.

Health & Safety: Face masks are requested for all indoor events, and strongly encouraged for all outdoor events where social distancing may not be possible. If you are feeling ill, please stay home.

Sustainability: Carry your reusable water bottle with you throughout NSO, and look for signs introducing you to sustainability practices around campus.

NEW STUDENT ENROLLMENT

Enrollment will open for frosh at 2:00 p.m. on Thursday, September 22, after the academic advising presentation. The deadline for all students to register your Preliminary Study List in Axess is 5:00 p.m., Monday, September 26.

COMMUNICATION

Be sure to check your @stanford.edu email regularly, which will be used by University offices for official communications during NSO and throughout your time at Stanford.

CAMPUS MAP - STANFORD MOBILE APP

Use the searchable campus map, located on the Stanford Mobile app or campus-map.stanford.edu to find campus locations and for useful information such as campus eateries and all-gender restrooms.

LOST AND FOUND

Contact the NSO Office, Sweet Hall 1st floor, to submit or claim items lost or found during NSO.

DISABILITY ACCESS

For disability access information, please contact disability.access@stanford.edu or call (650) 725-0326. Students needing assistance should register and schedule rides with Disability Golf Cart Service, disgo.stanford.edu.

Stanford University supports students, faculty, and staff in celebrating religious holidays of significance to them. NSO and residence staff are aware that religious commitments may influence attendance at some events. For more information, visit the Office for Religious and Spiritual Life's website, orsl.stanford.edu.

NEW STUDENT ARRIVAL

8:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m. • Housing Service Centers and Residences

Check in at your Housing Service Center where you will pick up your Stanford ID (SUID) card and room key and receive your first COVID-19 test. Please be prepared to show your government-issued ID. You will need your SUID card for the dining hall and access to your residence. (Do not punch a hole in your card.)

After checking in, head over to your residence to move in. Pick up your NSO packet from your residence staff and begin wearing your NSO nametag, which will serve as your entrance ticket to all NSO events this week. Please take your time settling into your new room. While we hope to see you at the Residence Welcomes, there is no required programming on this day. To familiarize yourself with campus, we invite you to participate in the self-guided NSO Scavenger Hunt with new dormmates, friends, family members, or on your own. Look for instructions and the Student's Guide to Stanford Map in your packet.

To protect the health and safety of all, students and family members should wear face masks at the Housing Service Centers and in all indoor areas of the residences during Move-In. Thank you for your understanding.

FAMILY WELCOME BOOTH & RESOURCES

10:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m. • Stanford Bookstore Patio, White Plaza

Your guests are invited to stop by the Family Welcome Booth to pick up a Stanford Families pin, the Student's Guide to Stanford Map, and NSO Scavenger Hunt instructions. Members of the Stanford Parents' Club will also be present to greet families. From 1:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m., representatives from campus resources will be available to provide information and answer questions.

GREEN LIBRARY TOURS

10:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. • Green Library East Entrance (near Red Hoop Fountain)

Find out how to get help with your research, scope out the best places to study, and experience a world-class library collection in one of Stanford's 20+ libraries. Join us for a tour of Green Library, the Humanities and Social Sciences Library.

CAMPUS TOURS

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 11

FIRST LECTURE: THE CYBERPUNK DILEMMA

6:00 p.m. • Memorial Auditorium

Per our founders' wishes, Stanford's undergraduate curriculum aims to prepare you for "direct usefulness in life" by engaging you in a wide-ranging search for knowledge, regardless of its perceived practical applications. Professor Ge Wang, Associate Professor in the Center for Computer Research in Music and Acoustics, offers this year's First Lecture on the Cyberpunk Dilemma. For better and for worse, we live in interesting times. In an age filled with advanced technology and human restlessness and discord, what should we do with ourselves?

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 18

THREE BOOKS: LULU MILLER

6:30 p.m. • Memorial Church

Lulu Miller, author of Why Fish Don't Exist: A Story of Loss, Love, and the Hidden Order of Life, one of the Three Books selected for this year's theme of Biodiversity will visit Stanford and spend the evening with students. Why Fish Don't Exist is a biography of David Starr Jordan combined with an existential memoir about the wonders of science. Students in "Why College?" and ESF will also be reading the book as part of their coursework.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 14

BIG GAME WEEK STARTS!

There's nothing more exciting in Stanford sports than the annual Big Game against rival Cal Berkeley. A tradition since 1892, the 125th Big Game is on Saturday, November 19, at Cal. In addition to the football game, Big Game Week includes a Big Game Rally, performances by the Leland Stanford Junior University Marching Band, and Gaieties, a Cal-mocking musical extravaganza.

A WORD ABOUT ALCOHOL AND DRUGS

Welcome to the Farm. You will find that your college experience will be characterized by virtually limitless access to academic opportunities and resources. It will also be a time of freedom and independence coupled with newfound responsibilities.

Please be aware that the university has established strict alcohol guidelines during New Student Orientation (NSO) from Move-In through Monday, September 26, at 8:00 a.m., for the entire campus community.

First, at all times, it is illegal to possess and/or consume alcohol if you are under the age of 21, and violators can be legally cited and held accountable under our policies. Second, as a new student, you should not consume any alcohol, particularly during the entire period from Move-In through the duration of NSO, and upperclass students are expected to support this policy. Violators can be subject to housing revocation and/or Office of Community Standards proceedings. Further information on our Alcohol and Other Drugs Policy can be found at super.stanford.edu (under Policy). Drug use (including cannabis) is prohibited on campus at all times.

There is a vibrant social life at Stanford for all students. Look for substance-free programming throughout the year in your dorms, across campus, and in various neighborhoods.

You will have time to reflect on your personal values around substance use in the first few weeks of classes. Hopefully, you had a discussion with your parent/guardian to set expectations. Most students come to Stanford with healthy norms and limits around alcohol and drugs. You are in charge of your plans. Don't allow misperceptions or false norms to set the tone for your decision making. We are here to support your health and well-being.
