

Recreational Use: Replace the camera - no more single snapshots, making you wish you could feel the sun on your face again. Now you can.

Memory Aid: Users with short- and long-term memory loss can now recall where they placed that important document, and who their loved ones are.

Human Connection: Share joy, tears, and everything in between

A donut shaped headset that comfortably fits on top of all heads, regardless of size and shape.

Sleek, glossy white finish.

Electrode arrays placed around the headset connect to the brain to both capture electrical signals and stimulate neurons.

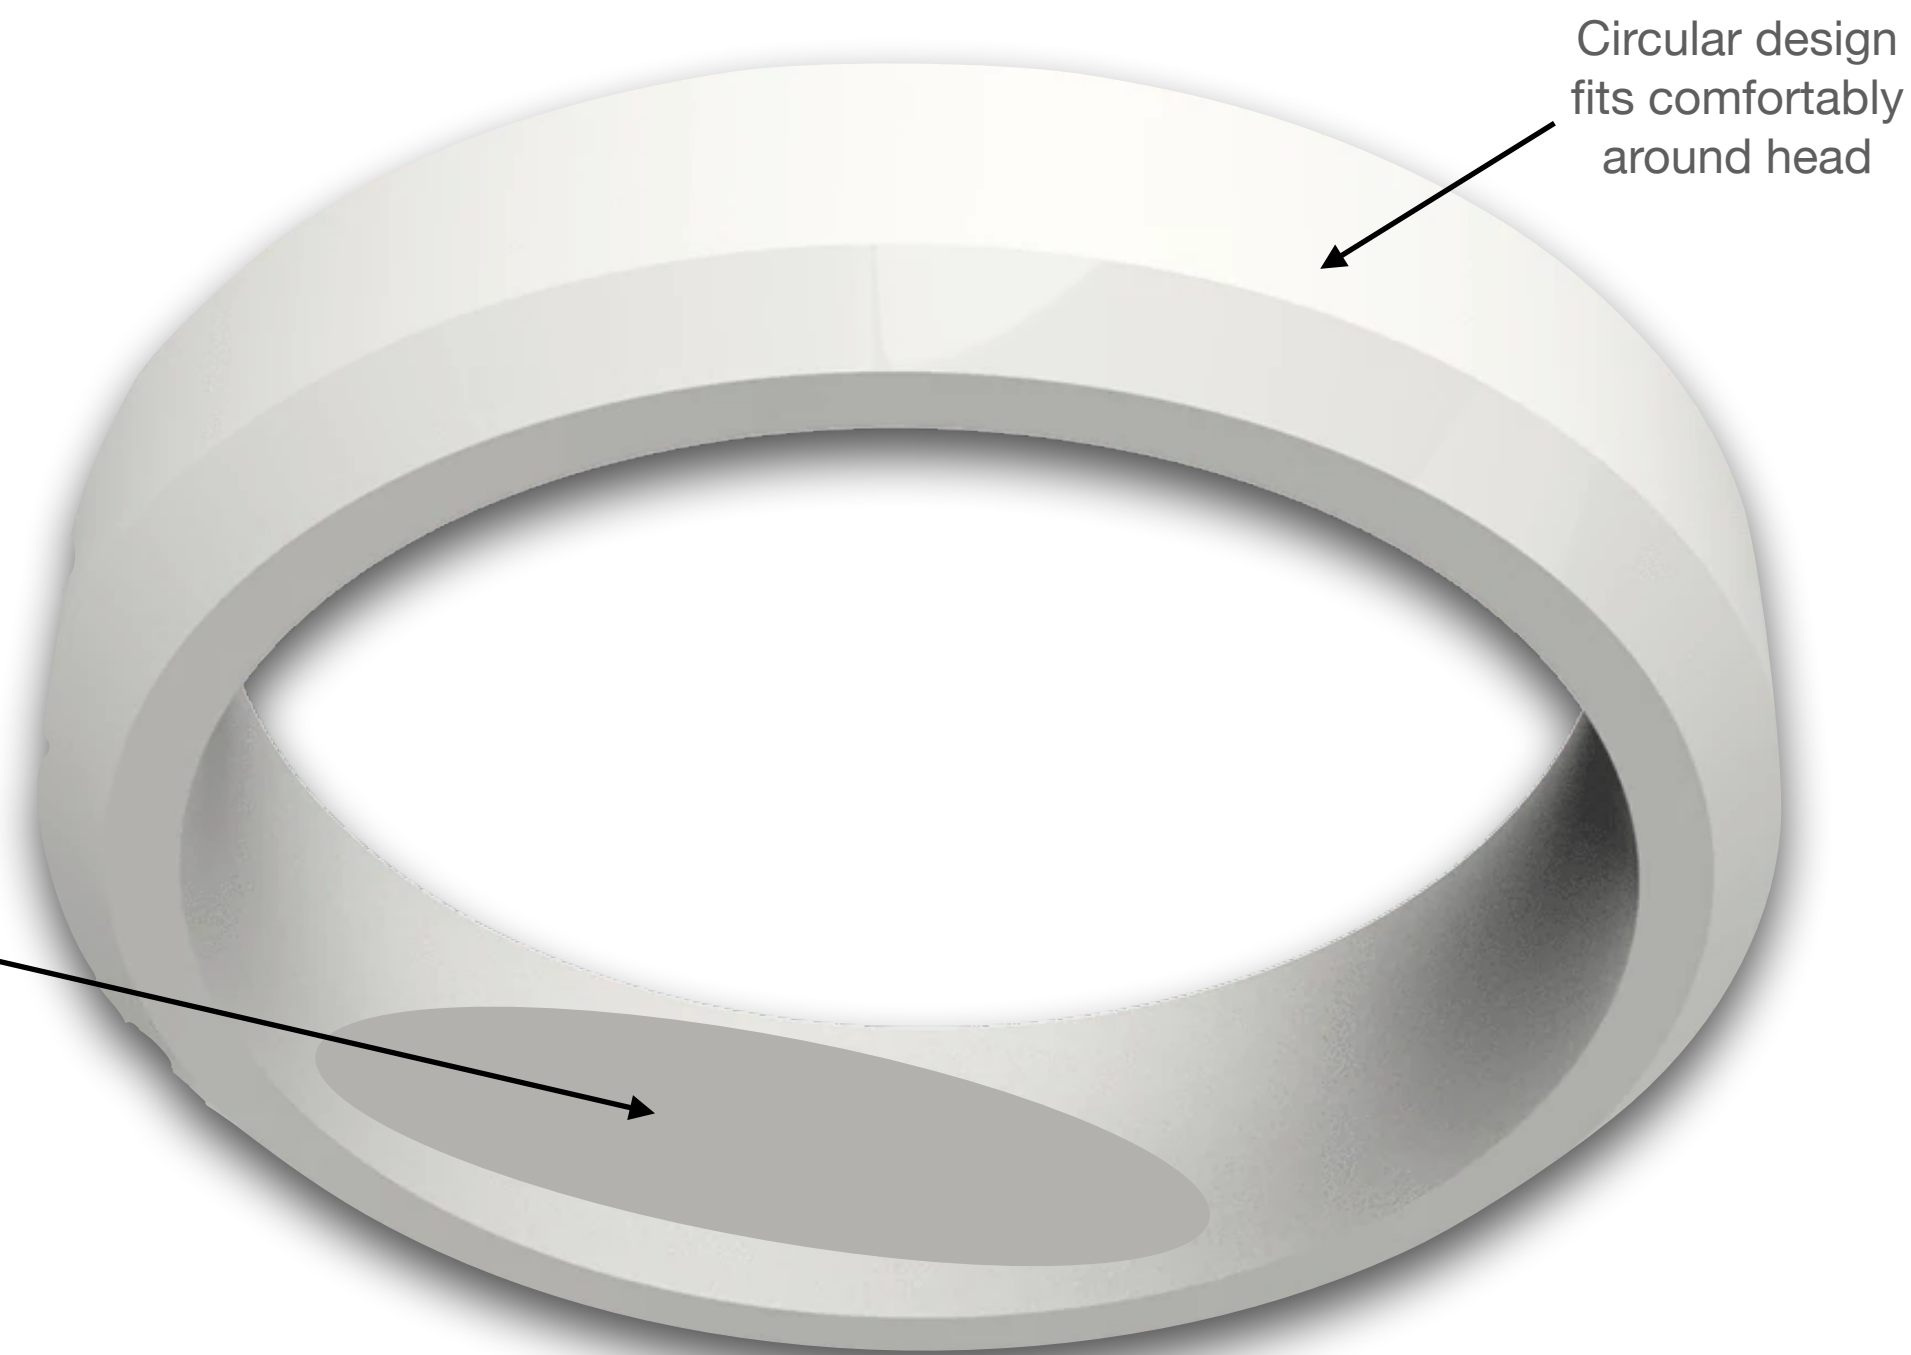

High-tech electrode arrays placed in front and back connect to neurons in the brain

Therapeutic Applications: Process trauma by reliving and analyzing your past, with the help of a professional

Law: Store memories as evidence - witnesses are no longer the only storage for incriminating evidence, eliminating potential threats to them

MemorySafe

Upload. Save. Experience.

Place the headset around your head.
Allow the connection to your mind.
Recall your favorite memories.
Then: press SAVE.

Place the headset around your head.
Allow the connection to your mind.
Scroll through past memories.
Then: press PLAY.

There are moments in life - awe-inspiring, breathtaking, beautiful - which we treasure in our memories. The experience is often stored in photos, writings, or the memory of others with whom we shared it. But divine experiences, those which make your heart beat faster, make you feel on top of the world and give you wings as if you could fly, can never be captured in single snapshots, words, or fragmented memories.

The MemorySafe changes all this. It gives you those wings, returning you to the exact moment in time that you remember. A literal out-of-body experience, the device stimulates neural pathways in the brain to elicit a sensory response in your body that emulates the stored experience. Its purpose is to give rise to positive emotions connected with memories, lifting the user's mood and leading to permanent happiness. No longer are joyous moments fleeting and temporary - the memory safe allows them to last forever. It allows its users to flourish.

Beyond personal flourishing, the device creates and strengthens human connection. Beautiful memories can be shared with others - eliciting empathy and a collective appreciation for those moments. Let your partner, friend, brother and mother in on the ups and downs of your life, not just by telling them what it was like but by letting them EXPERIENCE what you felt.

